

Dr. Vijay Manivel

Dr. Manivel is a Specialist Emergency Physician practicing at Nepean Hospital and Sydney Adventist Hospital in NSW. He completed his DDU in Emergency in 2017. He holds the position of Senior Clinical Lecturer at The University of Sydney, where he is involved in developing the ultrasound curriculum for medical students. Additionally, he is pursuing a PhD with The University of Sydney, conducting research in the field of Emergency Ultrasound. He actively engages in teaching and training Emergency Medicine trainees, helping them obtain CCPUs and Nurse Practitioner certifications through CAHPU. In 2017, alongside his colleague and friend, Dr. Elissa Kennedy Smith, was the early Emergency Physicians to complete DDU Emergency on the East Coast of Australia. In 2018, they initiated an online teaching program for DDU Emergency candidates and have so far successfully guided 10 DDU Emergency candidates to achieve their DDU dream.
